August 2017 Newsletter

In this issue we'll discuss an exciting opportunity for UTN, this month's solar eclipse and how to view it safely, great vacation spots and we'll give parents all the essential back to school hints and tips on the best supplies and tech.

Bioskills Symposium

We are excited to announce we will once again be taking part in The Association for Bioskills Laboratory Excellence's Bioskills Symposium. The Bioskills Symposium is a great way for UTN and other professionals engaged in all aspects of surgical education across the United States and the world to come together and share their knowledge. If your unfamiliar with ABLE click the link below to learn a little more about them.
